'Hindu Rashtra' constitution draft proposes Kashi as national capital

Rajeev.Mani@timesgroup.com

Prayagraj: A group of 30 eminent seers and scholars has prepared the first draft of a "constitution" for a "Hindu Rashtra" first proposed at the Dharma Sansad in Prayagraj in February this year. The 32-page draft is to be presented at the next Dharma Sansad during Magh Mela 2023 in Prayagraj. The draft details provisions in the fields of education, defence, law and order, voting system, rights of the head of state, etc. As per the constitution, Varanasi will replace New Delhi as the country's capital. Besides, there is a proposal to build a "Parliament of Religions" in Kashi (Varanasi). It also proposes that Muslims and Christians will enjoy all the rights of a common citizen, barring the right to vote. Besides, every citizen would be given compulsory military training and agriculture would be made completely tax-free.

In February 2022, a resolution was passed at the Dharma Sansad at Prayagraj to make India a "Hindu Rashtra" and the idea of a constitution was floated.

The patron of the drafting committee is Swami Anand Swaroop, Shambhavi Peet-hadheeshwar and president of the Shankaracharya Parishad. It also consists, among other, of Kameshwar Upadhyay, chairman; senior advocate of the Supreme Court BN Reddy; defence expert Anand Vardhan; Sanatan Dharma scholar Chandramani Mishra; and Dr Vidya Sagar. The cover page of the constitution carries a map of the proposed "Akhand Bharat".
